

Arahmaiani (b. 1961, Bandung) is one of Indonesia's most seminal and respected contemporary visual artists. She emerged in the 1980s as a pioneer in the Southeast Asia Performance Art scene, although her practice also incorporates a wide variety of media. Her innovative and interdisciplinary approach has positioned her as a vital voice in contemporary art, both within Indonesia and internationally.

Her bold and provocative works have often sparked controversy, particularly among Islamic community leaders and political authorities, leading to her brief imprisonment in 1983.
